Has Reorganized.

New York, March 25.—Announcement was made here that the American-Italian relief committee has reorganized under the name of "The American General Relief Committee" and will continue as a permanent body, "so that all times there may be an organization ready to superintend the raising of funds for immediate relief on an occasion of great public calamity." The president of the permanent committee is Henry Clews, with August Belmont, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Samuel Untermyer, Cornelius N. Bliss, Edward Lauterbach and General John T. Cutting as vice presidents.

The first work of the committee will be to raise a fund of $25,000 to assist in the building of the queen of Italy's proposed orphanage for children left destitute by the earthquake.

Six Hundred Vote to Strike.

Chicago, March 25.—Six hundred employees of wholesale grocery houses in Chicago have voted to strike April 1. A special meeting of the freight handler's district council has been called to take steps to aid the grocery employees, and trouble may ultimately involve the railroads.

The Wholesale Grocery Employees' union is demanding a reduction in the hours of labor from sixty to fifty-four a week at the same wages as are now being paid.

New York, March 25.—Mary Garden, the opera singer, has just paid David Mayer, a retired merchant of Chicago, $20,000 with interest, which Mayer and his wife are said to have advanced to her eleven years ago in order that she might complete her musical education. She was at that time a choir singer in Chicago and was preparing to go to Paris. The Mayers were interested in her work and confident that she had great talent. Overcomes Unfavorable Report of House Committee.

Mr. Turner secured similar permission, which will likely result in placing experiment stations over west Texas and the Panhandle.

DENEANER CONVICTED.

After Hard Fought Legal Battle, Jury Assesses Punishment at 5 Years.

The attorneys and witnesses in the Deneaner and Fezini cases have all returned from Hempstead where they have been since the 18th. The Deneaner case, which was put on trial first, and stubbornly contested by both sides, was concluded yesterday morning, the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty and assessing his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. The case of John Fezini, co-defendant with Deneaner, was continued until the next term of court.

Joe Fezini, the other defendant, in the case was tried here soon after the killing, convicted and given two years in the penitentiary. He has already served his time out and is back at home.

The crime, a most revolting one, was committed some three years ago last September, in the country, some five or six miles northwest of Bryan. These three Italians went to the home of another Italian who was not at home at the time, but was picking cotton close by and soon came in. A difficulty arose between him and the three men who were armed, and in the fight which followed, the Italians wife was killed, her head being literally blown off.

The three defendants escaped and remained in hiding for some time, finally surrendering however to Sheriff Nall, and upon writ of habeas corpus were admitted to bail.

It has been a fierce legal battle that has followed, with one of them convicted and his term served out, and now another convicted and under sentence of five years. The third has yet to face a jury of his peers.

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 26, 1909.

She who would be beautiful must never eat to satiety, says an authority on beauty of person. "Isn't it awful, Mabel?"

Texas is too poor to buy land for experimental farms but Governor Campbell still holds the legislative noses to the grindstone at an expense of $1300 a day to the tax payers.

It is evident that if the governor would submit the appropriation bill the legislature would pass it and adjourn. That grindstone is costing the people nearly $1300 a day, yet Gov. Tom keeps turning the crank for his own amusement.

Hon. Brons Cooper, who was beaten for congress by Martin Dies in the second district, is hesitating about whether or not to run for governor. Don't do it, Bronse. Otiium cum dignitate is the thing for a man of your age and experience.

A British naval officer has made a dash into the heart of the Antarctic continent, penetrating to within 111 miles of the south pole. In a few more years there will be no nook nor corner of this old world that adventurous man has not explored.

There seems to be little doubt that the man and woman arrested as the kidnapers of Willie Whittle are guilty. Their speedy conviction and punishment will perhaps discourage the increase of that daring and dangerous form of crime.

The court of criminal appeals at Dallas has decided that the occupation of a barber is mechanical and therefore non-taxable. This classification is based on the fact that a barber works with his hands. So does a piano player and a fiddler. Are they mechanics also?

The Galveston Tribune says nothing but laziness keeps people from cleaning up their back yards. Yet nearly every one of the delinquents spends more of their time and energy than are needed for tidying and sanitation in doing things that are of no profit to anybody.

In an editorial on co-operative living the Beaumont Enterprise says: "The kitchen is evidently going out of fashion and with it the kitchen garden, and people are coming more and more to live out of tin cans." Never before heard that people have been living in tin cans.

Governor Campbell is reported to have said that the people of Texas have been "ribbed up" by the commercial secretaries to demand that the legislature pass the general appropriation bill and go home. The people are mortally tired of Governor Campbell and his so-called platform demands and needed no ribbing up.

Representative Adams of San Antonio has been arrested on a charge of allowing poker to be played in his room at Austin. This is mentioned because it is the first specific charge of violating the law that has been made public against any member of the Thirty-first legislature. If there are others trot them out. Let no guilty man escape.

"As the young men are the dreamers, it is natural that they take the initiative. The older men, having had their dreams and gained experience thereby, act as a balance wheel," says the Beaumont Enterprise. But the trouble is that too many of the young men dream only of having a good time and they don't understand what a truly good time is.

Last Tuesday a steamship direct from Liverpool unloaded at Galveston 155 tons of Irish potatoes. This is only one out of many similar cargoes that have come to Texas this year. In addition to the cost of the production and marketing in the old country and of transportation across the Atlantic a duty of 25 cents is paid on every bushel of imported spuds. It does look like items such as this would open the eyes of Texas farmers to the opportunities they are neglecting.

Virginia has a native born citizen who is by inheritance an English lord. If he chose to do so he could go to England and assume the title but he prefers to remain an American citizen. Whether he is wise enough to despise artificial distinctions of rank or lacks the means to sustain the position of an English lord we are not informed, but we are inclined to accept the former because there is little doubt that if it were the latter only he could find an American heiress who would furnish the money.

"Humble Pie."
Originally the term "humble pie" carried no opprobrious meaning. The pie was one made out of the "humbles" or "numbles," from the Norman French "nombrells"—i. e., the entrails of a deer. To this day it is highly esteemed in Scotland and in northern parts of England. So late as the time of Pepys "humble pie" was served as part of the menu of a gentleman's table on an extraordinary occasion. Some writers derive the contumelious use of the phrase "to eat humble pie" from an alleged custom of serving "humble pie" below the salt, or at the second table. But this is not supported by authority. It more probably came into use simply through the similarity of sound, there being no similarity of meaning whatever between the noun umbles or numbles and the adjective humble.

The Law of Gravitation.
In 1609—seventy-seven years before the publication of Newton's "Principia"—Shakespeare in the play of "Troilus and Cressida," act 4, scene 2, makes one of his characters say: "Do to this body what extremity you can. But the strong base and building of my love is as the very center of the earth, Drawing all things to it." This would seem to look very like the announcement of the law of gravity, and yet nothing can possibly be truer than the fact that the great poet did not in any substantial sense anticipate the philosopher. Between Shakespeare's fancy and the scientific triumph of Newton there is an infinite difference.—New York American.

Lucky.
"Benoit, did you break the water bottle?"
"Yes, madame, but fortunately I broke it into only three pieces."
"Fortunately! How's that fortunate?"
"Oh, madame, when a thing breaks into many pieces it is so hard to pick them all up!"—Paris Journal.

A Busy Holiday.
"Now, I don't think Timmy 'A' be stayin' long on this new job he's took up wid," said Mrs. Herlihy. "'Tis too hard fer him. Sure, he gets no rist at all from Monda' mornin' till Sathurday night, and 'tis not what the man's used to."
"He has his Sundays to rist in," hazarded the caller boldly.
"An' what o' that?" said Mrs. Herlihy. "On Sunda's he has to go to church an' take the children to their grandmama's an' visit wid his coosins an' all—'tis no rist at all."
"Twas wan day out of ivery fortnit he had wid the ould job, wa'n't it?" queried the caller.
"It was," said Mrs. Herlihy, "an' 'twas a grand vacation he had. I'd save ivery bit o' the washin', and he'd wring it out fine an' hang it on the line for me, thin he'd saw an' shplit wood enough to last till the nixt vacation day, an' he'd bate ivery roat in the house an' shine up the faucets an' the b'iler an' wash the windys, an' there'd always be some little extra help, drivin' nails or the like, he end give me."
"An' whin he'd go to his bed at night he'd niver fall to say to me, 'Well, Celia, my vacation day is over, but I feel like it's made me ready to go back to wurk tommorow,' he'd say."
—Youth's Companion.

A Great Mystery.
There is one great mystery in God's universe—somewhere flows a fountain of life, where is one of God's secrets. How far its waters flow we cannot tell. No human feet have tracked its streams in their wanderings. The Father has decreed that we must drink of it to live, and yet he blinds our eyes with sleep before he lets us drink. When we awake the strength of the stream is in us, and so we make the journey of the day. And the strange waters have strange powers. Soul darkness and despair are melted in them; fear and trouble shrivel; hope and strength are held in sweet solution in their wakes. Worn and weary with the care and fret, closing her eyes as the tired lids fall in the gloom of night, the faint mother slips into the stream of sleep, and then in a little while the morning comes, and a new woman looks out upon the day with the secret of a new creation in her soul, new power and courage born of the waters of life.—Sturgis (Ky.) News-Democrat.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

If you have indigestion, your food ferments in the stomach and bowels. It does more; it decays, and the nutritious matter which should go to make new blood decays with it and this leads to an impoverished condition of the blood, to nervousness, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, bad breath which disgusts your friends, and other disagreeable and unpleasant conditions.

And all this trouble is caused by the food that doesn't digest, but ferments and oft times rots in the stomach.

And fermentation is caused by the stomach not being strong enough and energetic enough to thoroughly mix the food with the digestive juices.

MI-O-NA is responsible for tens of thousands of cures. In fact, it is such a positive cure for indigestion and all stomach troubles that it is guaranteed by E. J. Jenkins to cure or money back. The price of a large box of MI-O-NA tablets is 50 cents, and they are sure to promptly cure the worst case of indigestion or gastritis. Try them.

Mr. H. E. Ramsey Dead.

Mr. H. E. Ramsey died at his home two miles north of the A. and M. College Thursday morning at 6 o'clock.
Mr. Ramsey was born in Virginia, but came to Texas with his parents when quite young. He had been married twice and was the father of fifteen children, eleven of whom are still living. Mr. Henry Ramsey of California, and Miss Lucy Ramsey of College are the children of the first wife.

The children of his present wife are: William Ramsey of Oregon, Miss Nannie Ramsey of Oklahoma, and those at College are Aaron, James, Charles, Ethel, Walter and Willie.
The remains will be interred at Boonville this afternoon, the procession leaving Bryan at 1 p. m., service to be conducted by Rev. John Swanwick.

Mr. Ramsey had been afflicted for a number of years and leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

DR. DUFFY GONE.

The services at St. Andrews Episcopal church Wednesday night concluded the ministry of Rev. Dr. F. P. Duffy in this city, and he left yesterday for New Orleans. Dr. Duffy is a splendid christian gentleman, and an earnest, faithful man of God. He is also a splendid preacher and the sermons delivered during his pastorate here were gems of pure eloquence. He made a large number of warm friends in Bryan and one and all deeply regret his departure.

CHAMPIONS OF THE SOUTH.

Allen Academy Sweeps as Chaff all Corners in Basketball.

Allen Academy had already defeated everything in Texas in basketball, giving them the championship of the state, and on yesterday afternoon and last night they put the fixin's good and plenty on the "Ponies," claiming to be from San Francisco and champions of the Pacific slope.

They may be champions in that country, but when they get back home they will have to tell their people that they struck a bunch of Texas steers at Bryan who made their championship work look like thirty cents.

The "Ponies" arrived at noon, were given a good feed by the Academy boys and then at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and again at 8:30 at night carried them down to a clean finish.

In the afternoon the score was 44 to 21 in favor of the Academy, and at night the home team was again victorious, score 42 to 20.

After the game the rejoicing was long and loud and the whole student body marched down town and gave their celebrated snake drill on Main street.

The Academy boys are simply invincible at basketball and the Eagle extends its heartiest congratulations and hopes they will get a holiday today.

The line-up is as follows:
Academy—Ross (captain), Allen, McAshan, Jones, Caldwell.

"Ponies"—Tuttle, Mohr, Mienberg, Downing, Clark.

Referee—Merriwell.

Umpire—Massingill.

Eastern Mills.

Often the mills in the East have an accumulation of short pieces from 2 to 20 yards of such goods as madras, waistings, shirtings and gingham. These they case up and sell by the case. While in St. Louis Coulter bought from a mill agent 30,000 yards of these goods which are just as good as if cut from the full bolt. He has them ticketed and marked in plain figures and are selling them at from one-fourth to one-half less than regular price. Whenever you need a small piece of any of these goods, don't forget Coulter because he can save you about one-half, and saving is what counts. w24 93

SENIOR PENANTS.

The senior class of Allen Academy, composed of Meredith James, John Newton, George Peejer, Carl Stephens, Scott Hill, and Alsdorf McCormack, has designed and had made one for each member of the class, a beautiful senior class penant. A large A with 0 above and 9 below the bar is all the lettering carried. It also has six stars, one for each member of the class, and at the extreme end is an interrogation point which is a constant reminder to each one to keep up with his classmates in the coming years.

T. A. SATTERWHITE, C. C.

The next best thing to visiting the Holy Land is to hear Dr. Riley's lecture at Carnegie Hall told in his own inimitable way. The lecture will cost you only 25 cents—a trip to the Holy Land would cost about $1,000.00; a big difference in cost. If you cannot afford the thousand dollar trip, try the 25 cent way. 93

Falling Wall Kills Eight.

Chicago, March 25.—Eight workmen were killed by a falling wall at the stockyards. Three bodies were recovered soon after the wall, which was left standing after the fire which destroyed one of the Darling & Co. warehouses recently collapsed. The men were at work demolishing what remained of the ruined structure when the accident occurred.

Turns Trapper.

Chicago, March 25.—In the interest of the Lincoln park zoo and for the protection of the immense timber interests of W. H. Bartlett, board of trade broker, Cy De Vry, head animal keeper at the park, has turned beaver trapper and journeyed to the large ranch of the broker at Trinidad, N. M. The great number of beavers there have done vast damage to the timber. De Vry expects to bring back a half dozen pairs of the animals.

Revolution, if Necessary.

Paris, March 25.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, and members of his party left this city for Bordeaux. At the railroad station Senor Castro confided to a small group of Venezuelan adherents and admirers his intention of re-establishing his power in Venezuela by a revolution should this be necessary.

Boyles Indicted.

Cleveland, O., March 25.—The county grand jury reported an indictment against James Boyle and Helen Boyle, alias Faulkner, charging them with blackmail. The charge is based on the payment of $10,000 ransom by J. P. Whittle for the recovery of his son, Willie, here last Monday.

Fire Consumes Horses and Mules.

Fort Worth, March 25.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn of Scott-Wilson Lumber company and burned to death fourteen horses and two mules. The flames spread to a stack of lumber, making the total loss $5,000.

Pullman Car Occupants Robbed.

UNDERWOOD OPPOSES.

Alabama Congressman Unfavorable to New Tariff.

Washington, March 25.—The heavy wind and rainstorm that prevailed Wednesday did not have any appreciable effect on the attendance in the house of representatives when the tariff discussion was renewed. The bill was called up by Chairman Payne immediately after the body convened, and the debate was opened by Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who spoke at length in opposition to the bill.

NUMEROUS NOMINATIONS.

President Taft Sends in a Great Number to the Senate.

Washington, March 25.—The president made the following nominations: Ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Italy, John Leishman, Pennsylvania.

Envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Spain, Henry Clay Ide, Vermont.

Envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Argentina Republic, Charles Sherrill, New York.

United States judge Western district of Pennsylvania, Charles Orr, Pennsylvania.

United States Attorney, William G. Wheeler, Western district of Alaska. Assistant secretary of commerce and labor, Ormsby McHarm, North Dakota.

Collector of customs, district of Sandusky, O., Charles Judson, Ohio. Judson is generally known as a "Vorys man," and his reappointment is declared to be a victory for that wing of the party in Ohio.

BREWED BEVERAGES.

Editor Heinemann Says if Use Is Wrong So Is Sale.

Chicago, March 25.—Henry E. O. Heinemann, editor of the American Brewers' Review, digresses from the usual trend of argument used by brewers to check the prohibition wave. In suggestions to the Society of Brewing Technology, for the betterment of the drink traffic, he says:

"If the use of brewed beverages is wrong then the manufacture and sale of them is wrong, and I for one, would not engage or defend the business. If the use of the beverage is right, as I believe it to be, we are compromising with ourselves and belittling our cause by submitting the manufacture and sale of it to be a necessary evil and complaining about property loss."

Mr. Heinemann discusses the systems of dealing with the drink question as conducted in Switzerland and other European countries and says that the foreign distinctive features of those systems should be adopted in this country.

"The limitation of the number of public drinking places, more particularly where the spirits are sold; disinclination in favor of mild fermented beverages and grading the tax on beverages according to amount of alcohol contained; suppression of impure drinks with discretion in licensing and enforcing the liquor laws, and last, but not most vital, the absolute suppression of the treating habit. The brewer," he concludes, "is the logical partner of the temperance worker and the sooner the two forces recognize each other, the sooner will temperance and better social conditions be realized."

BURNS BIG BUILDING.

Entire Business District Is Threatened For a Time.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 25.—Fire which broke out in a three-story building on Forsythe street for a time threatened the entire business district. The fire department was called out in full force and in two hours had fire under control, after having confined it to one building. Loss is estimated at $350,000, partially insured.

The H. & W. B. Drew printing plant, one of the finest and best equipped in the south, is a total loss and throws a large number of employees out of work. The origin is said to be due to lightning striking the electric wires, which ignited in the storage rooms.

Shingle Nails For Buttons.

Chicago, March 25.—Shingle nails as substitutes for buttons will be discussed when the "Eight Hour Mending Circle" of the Women's Trade Union league opens its headquarters April 1.

The mending circle is patterned after the Ship-Shapeshop in New York and proposes to attend to the wants of the bachelor, or relieve the housewife of darning and mending. The shop will be run on a strictly eight hour basis. Prominent society women, whose names are withheld for present, are said to be backing the project, which, it is believed, will not only furnish employment for a large number of girls, but will fill a long felt public need.

Indictments Dismissed.

New York, March 25.—Supreme Court Justice Blanchard dismissed the indictments found by the grand jury in December, 1906, against George W. Perkins and Charles S. Fairchild as officials of the New York Life Insurance company. An indictment against Robert H. Grauns, a former vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, was also dismissed.

Rich Widow and Printer Wed.

Aurora, Ill., March 25.—Mrs. Mary J. Gray, sixty-five years old, Aurora's wealthiest woman, has been married at Freeport to D. W. Tyrrell, sixty-seven years old, a Dekalb printer. Mrs. Tyrrell was the widow of Virgil Gray, a horse trader, who amassed a fortune.

Fire Destroys High School.

Baird, Tex., March 25.—The high school and adjoining building were destroyed by fire. Loss is $7,500.

Baby, Cat, Asleep on Face Of.—Remove cat. Train, Run Over By.—Remove train, using force if necessary. Upon release acquaint nearest station master with the facts and proceed as in case of shipwreck.

Pantry, Burglar In.—Procure a copy of the Tariff Reform league's latest publication on free food fallacies and read same to intruder, taking care to elucidate most telling arguments. The contrite crackman will at once turn over a new leaf and express his sorrow. Under the circumstances you will do well to accept his assurance of regret.

Crime, Having Committed or Being Suspected Of.—Apply to nearest music hall manager for an engagement. Insist on being put among the "star" turns and demand a salary proportionate to the gravity of the crime in question.—Punch.

Not Worth It.

A young man, after his banns had been twice announced, called upon the busy vicar early one morning. He wanted to have a private word with him about the banns.

"Well," said the vicar, "what is wrong?"

"Oh, it's the girl's name."

"Hasn't it been given correctly?"

"Oh, yes, it's correct enough, but I want you to put another girl's name for the third calling. I've changed my mind and would rather marry Mary Arris instead of Sarah Jenkins."

The vicar lectured the youth upon his fickleness and told him if he wanted any alteration it would be necessary to make a fresh start and have the banns published afresh.

"What, and pay another shilling?" gasped the lover.

"Certainly," replied the vicar.

"Well, in that case you had better let it be as it is, and I'll marry my first love."—Pearson's Weekly.

Buy your Life Insurance as you would a suit of clothes—strictly on the merit of the policy contract.

When you buy a Manhattan policy, you are guaranteed, in that policy an exact accounting for every cent of your premium payments. That portion which has not actually been consumed in carrying the risk is your money, subject to your instant demand. It may be withdrawn in cash or it may be used in buying paid-up insurance, as you may elect. In the event of lapse and the absence of an expressed desire on your part as to the disposition of your funds, the company automatically carries your policy in full force for a period as long as the amount on deposit will pay for the net costs, and a table of these costs is given in the policy.
